DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1 – 12 and 20 – 31, drawn to a mobile station comprising a chip-pattern generating unit, classified in class 375, subclass 146.
 - II. Claims 13 – 14 and 32 – 33, drawn to a mobile station comprising a high-precision transmission timing control unit, classified in class 375, subclass 355.
 - III. Claims 15 – 18 and 34 – 38, drawn to a base station comprising a controlling-information transmitting unit, classified in class 375, subclass 141.

Inventions I, II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as being in a mobile station comprising a chip-pattern generating unit generating one or a plurality of predetermined chip patterns and a multiplying unit which multiplies to the signal comprising said predetermined chip pattern one or a plurality of phases specific to the mobile station that can be used in a mobile station without a high-precision transmission timing control unit or in a base station comprising a controlling-information transmitting unit. Subcombination II has separate utility such as comprising a high-precision transmission timing control unit which can be used in a mobile station without a chip-pattern generating unit by performing chip repetition or a controlling-information transmitting unit. Subcombination III has separate utility such as a controlling-information transmitting unit in a base station that can be used without a mobile station that comprises a chip-pattern generating unit by performing chip repetition or a high-precision transmission timing control unit. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Further, the text searches would be divergent
